

Greetings:

I would like to express my support for RM-10870 as the best choice for Amateur Radio License Restructuring. It would allow for a simple entry path to new students of the radio art, removal of the morse code restrictions (while allowing Amateurs the ability to still practice the mode of their own desire) and would reduce the time and costs of those test elements that would be removed. Ham radio is a hobby, and as such it should be designed to allow the greatest opportunities for education and experimentation possible without creating undue workload for the FCC. On behalf of myself and the Amateurs in my family (N5VTW, KD5YDL and KD5WPO), we recommend this option as best for all involved.

Sincerely,

Stuart A Rowland, AD5OA
